

Research Results

IZA's research results are processed in various ways and made accessible to the public. The IZA Discussion Paper Series presents current research findings by IZA staff, research fellows and affiliates as well as other cooperating economists. In a short period of time, the series has acquired a strong international reputation. The IZA Reprint Series consists of published articles by researchers affiliated with IZA. While short research reports are documented in the IZA Research Report Series, more comprehensive studies are published as monographs in cooperation with renowned publishers. IZA researchers have not only published widely respected articles in international journals, they also actively participate in the refereeing process for peer-reviewed journals. Several works by IZA staff members have won prestigious awards.

IZA Discussion Paper Series

IZA Discussion Paper Series

The IZA Discussion Paper Series makes current research findings by IZA staff, fellows and cooperating economists available before they are published in a research journal. This well-established form of scientific working papers contributes significantly to the progress in research. By now comprising several hundred titles, the IZA Discussion Paper Series has become a respected and influential series in labor economics.
